Not The Best Text Book

By Louise Clarke

Bought this book for a class. If I was an instructor this would not be my first choice for a textbook. It's too compact and this makes it boring. The information is not illustrated frequently enough and because there are no solutions to the end of chapter problems, students are not able to progress independently.

Yes, I love a textbook

By Benjamin Szweda

I find it funny that I am giving an "I love it" rating to a textbook, but this is a good one. The authors have organised the book in a logical order presenting information and concepts so that concepts likely to be unfamiliar to the reader are not introduced till all supporting concepts are taught. There are helpful charts throughout the book where appropriate. I also found the questions at the end of each chapter to be beneficial for encouraging learning. This book focuses specifically on government accounting as the title indicates, however it points out the differences and similarities to private sector accounting where they exist and in a manner which acts to clear up any confusion before it sets in. Language is easy to read and easy to understand and all industry specific terminology is defined when used. Introductory, but in-depth text.
